Certified NLP Master Practitioner

Karen Ross is a transformational coach, speaker and experienced trainer. Her career spans more than a dozen countries; from Europe to Japan and the Caribbean, including working for KPMG International. She has a business management degree, is a certified NLP Master Practitioner and a member of the National Speakers Association.

Karen appeared on TV One's Breakfast earlier this year talking about 'switching off from work', and Campbell Live in Nov 2008 where she was demonstrating helping a client overcome severe stage fright. Karen's work is essentially about Using Your Brain on Purpose. She asks, are you running your brain, or is it running you?!

“ The combination of theory and practical exercises made the session fun and interactive, with a measurable outcome. Very enjoyable. ”

“ It's absolutely amazing, I don't think I've ever gone ten days without feeling stressed and overwhelmed. And my boss has also noticed. ”

M. Hammond, Services Manager
Coaching Client

I was delighted and amazed at how much I learned, and was able to apply immediately to the benefit of my clients - and family. Karen's stories and engaging ideas, tools and methods were very well received by everyone in my group and we laughed, learned and enjoyed a very stimulating couple of hours.
